“4Ps summer sessions keeping youth in school”

A Good Practice on Youth Development Session (YDS) conducted in the barangay level during summer vacation of Pantawid Pamilyang Pilipino Program children beneficiaries in Basey, Samar

CONTEXT:

Education is necessary so that one will be able to graduate and find a job. Education facilitates learning, knowledge and skills are necessary to become competitive in life. It is the key to success and a door to several opportunities.

The Pantawid Pamilyang Pilipino Program is the flagship program of the national government on poverty reduction and social development. It provides cash grants to extremely poor households to improve their health and avail education. It invests in human capital to break the inter-generational cycle of poverty among poor households. The program seeks to answer The Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) in which to achieve universal primary education.

It also answers the Sustainable Development Goals to have quality education. Thus, education is a worldwide goal that needs to be achieved.

In the Municipality of Basey, there were children beneficiaries who were found out to be not attending school upon monitoring and they were targeted to go back to schooling. Based on the data, Basey ranked as the 4th among the Municipalities in the Province of Samar with large number of not attending children. In Basey, far-flung barangays have the most numbered of not attending children. Barangay Palaypay which is located in Poblacion ranked as the 8th among the 51 barangays with highest number of not attending children.

The numbers were alarming, thus interventions are needed in order to address the issue. Albert Luel Estojero was among the not attending children from Barangay Palaypay, Basey, Samar. Since his parents were not around to attend to him, he turned to his peers and was later stop his studies. Albert is the youngest child of Dominica and Anito Estojero. Dominica is determined that the only treasure they can give to their children is education, that is why Dominica and her husband are working hard and doing their best to sustain the needs of their children. Anito is a “pedicab” driver and a fisherman while Dominica sells the fish caught by her husband and also she accepts orders of “puto” since she knows how to cook “kakanin”.

Albert was a regular student/pupil in 2015; however he stopped from school during the time that his father became sick. Both parents went to Manila for the medication of the head of the family that took them more than a year staying there and leaving the child in the custody of their relatives. With this situation, Albert became one of the out of school youth in the community. He is oftentimes with his friends roaming around the area and doing not so productive activities. Meanwhile, Albert’s father was not cured in Manila, thus they decided to go back in Basey and seek help from a quack doctor and found out that such illness was caused by so called “kulam” or balck magic. It was difficult for the family to encounter such experience. They are drained financially considering that they cannot longer work and they can’t provide the needs of Albert. Adding up to their concern was Albert’s being dropped out from school. They have so many dreams for Albert but feel hopeless because of unexpected circumstances.

IMPLEMENTATION:

Pre-implementation

The record was alarming considering the number of not attending children in the Municipality. Based on the Pantawid Pamilya database, there were about 8,030 eligible beneficiaries for education grant and yet around 10% of these children are not attending school. During the Family Development Session (FDS) planning, it was brought out that a separate session must be enforced to the children beneficiaries during summer break. A Youth Development Session (YDS) to be attended by children beneficiaries during summer break is necessary in order to encourage them to go back to school.

Implementation

A Youth Development Session on the barangay level was conducted on the summer of 2017 and 2018 to children beneficiaries. The importance of education was discussed during the YDS. Children participated in the workshops in which they were the one who identified the reasons of not attending, absences and drop outs as well as the importance of education. Among the reasons cited were peer pressure, early marriage, lack of attention/support from parents and lack/lost interest. The facilitators were the Municipal Links in which they process the answers from the children by giving emphasis to the importance of education.

Youth Development Session (YDS) was conducted to the children beneficiaries of Barangay Palaypay on May 9, 2018. One of the attendees was Albert Estojero who is under the SI Target. He was among those who promised to enrol who later on continued his studies. He enrolled in June 2018 in Basey National High School as a Grade 8 student.

Post-Implementation

After each session, each child signed their commitment to continue their studies. Beneficiaries who were not attending were encouraged to continue their studies and submit Update Form with school certification. Those households with not attending children were constantly reminded to send their children back to school and submit Update Form.

A Youth Development Session (YDS) was also conducted in high school facilities upon resume of classes. After the conduct of the activity, there were some who returned to school on 2018. Though the percentage is minimal, the activity in one way or another is a positive intervention that encouraged some children to continue their studies.

Results/Impacts

Participation from different agencies could have brought a huge positive impact for those not attending children. Thus, convergence strategy needs to be fully executed to achieve a positive result. Youth Development Session (YDS) in the barangay level gains positive impact and ensures active participation from the children. Though, YDS in schools is necessary, children are more open in sharing their views and aspirations when YDS is conducted in their own barangay. Thus, Youth Development Session (YDS) must also be implemented during summer breaks in the barangay level.

Lessons Learned

Participation from different agencies could have brought a huge positive impact for those not attending children. Thus, convergence strategy needs to be fully executed to achieve a positive result. Youth Development Session (YDS) in the barangay level gains positive impact and ensures active participation from the children. Though, YDS in schools is necessary, children are more open to air out their views and aspirations in their own barangay. Thus, Youth Development Session (YDS) must also be implemented during summer breaks in the barangay level.

Implication for Replication

The Youth Development Session (YDS) in the barangay level must be conducted during summer breaks to ensure that the children will be reminded on the importance of education and at the same time it is one of the best interventions that can be given to not attending children. In this way, those who were not attending might be encouraged by those previously not attending school children but decided to go back to schooling, realizing how important is education to attain their dreams in life and have a better future.
